

Woodford Rescue Plan

Parliamentary Presentation To Save Woodford

To the workers, families, friends of Woodford Aerodrome.

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Parliamentary Mission to Save Woodford Aerodrome from closure

As some of you will know by now I am a local technology innovator and financial specialist who has long had an interest in the future of the aerospace industry in the UK and its value to the future of our economy. As I have consulted for a couple of American aerospace companies in the past I understand the future opportunities available for new aircraft designs and markets.

When I saw plans for the closure of Woodford Aerodrome I decided to produce a rescue plan for presentation to Parliament, to raise money and:-

1. Establish Woodford as a centre of excellence for a revived aerospace industry.
2. Undertake new research and development into future aerospace production for: light jets, rotary aircraft and lifestyle aircraft, and more.
3. Launch a radical proposal to revive the UK economy on the back of a large, world-wide aerospace project.

I'm now looking for support to undertake this presentation and invite you to join me. Visit the web site to learn more, and join this effort to save your jobs, to save the aerospace industry in the UK, to save Woodford, we have just a few weeks to act.

With a general election due in the next few weeks this is the only opportunity we will have for five years to offer the government a substantial alternative to belt-tightening spending cuts and "prudence".

This is NOT a protest campaign. It is a clear, point of discussion and action which ought to be made before the election if we are to stand any chance to revive the country and avoid economic restraint and cuts for the next decade. It is an alternative approach to government economic policy, one based on prosperity over prudence, with Woodford at its heart.

If there is enough support I will hold meetings at Woodford Community Centre during the next few weeks at lunchtimes where you and I can meet to discuss this plan.

Thank you in anticipation of your support.
